

ENERGY COST MANAGEMENT LTD

Delivering Solutions to minimise cost

The Client

Reebok UK

Reebok UK the world famous sportswear and leisure company operate numerous UK sites including a range of offices, distribution centres and high street shops. Reebok UK wanted to consolidate their position on energy management and engaged Energy Cost Management (ECM) to provide a range of services.

The Problem

Reebok wanted to ensure their utility accounts were correct and as contract. Reebok also wanted to be sure their sites were on the most advantageous tariff and their energy usage was as efficient as possible.

The complexities of the energy and utility industry has brought about a need to not only audit and validate costs on an ongoing basis, but also understand the wide range of tariffs available from the various suppliers and relate them to the site specific environment. With the pressure on resource of many companies, minimising costs through maximising audit savings is often overlooked.

The Solution

Independent Audit and Technical Review.

- Short Audits to identify the scale of opportunities.
- Detailed Audits producing clear recommendations, budget costs and payback periods.
- Specific Climate Change Levy Audits & Application Management.
- Turn-Key Projects.
- Bill validation
- Procurement

ECM can effect a direct improvement of profits.

ECM are specialists in the field of utility costs, and their experienced team are able to undertake audits of the principle utilities, Electricity, Gas, Water, Oil, Trade Effluent and Drainage to ensure charges previously levied were correct and that currently the sites are on the most favourable contract.

Frequently the audit provides not only saving opportunities but also identify overcharges which result in refunds. Essentially ECM's Audit Service removes the risk of overpayment.

With the Utility Industry in an almost constant state of change, and energy prices rising so dramatically, there has never been a greater need to rigorously validate the accuracy of accounts. Utility bills are complex - unlike typical bills they have many component parts, which can be difficult to understand. To validate these charges correctly, expert knowledge of how the bills are compiled is essential.

- ECM operates in a variety of sectors including: Manufacturing, Engineering, Property, Leisure, Food & Drink, Retail, IT and Education.
